The American Association of Advertising Agencies' Multicultural Advertising Intern Program (MAIP) offers students of color 10-week paid summer internships at 4A's member advertising agencies across the country. Through the program, students are able to hone their skills in one of several advertising disciplines:

- Account Management
- Art Direction
- Media Planning/Buying
- Strategic/Account Planning
- Digital/Interactive Design
- Broadcast/Print Production
- Copy Writing
- Traffic
- Public Relations
- Project Management

We are seeking the best and brightest students for the 2010 summer program, but we need the help of educators like you who can identify prime candidates for the program. MAIP is open to students of color who are currently college juniors or seniors, graduate students or students attending one of eight 4A's-participating portfolio schools. Please visit our Web site (www.adunity.aaaa.org) for more information about the program.

Angela Johnson Meadows
Manager, Diversity Programs
American Association of Advertising Agencies