The Puyallup Fair will provide a summer of experience that you can put to work in most any communications job. This is a high-pace, multi-faceted job, so apply only if you have talent, energy and unbridled enthusiasm.

If you want to get experience working with the media, writing, and assuming project responsibilities, then this job could be for you.

Qualifications and requirements:

- Public relations / Communications career emphasis
- Proven ability to write press releases
- Writing experience
- Willingness to handle a wide variety of responsibilities
- Flexible working hours
- Ability to jump into projects
- Stamina to move around the facility frequently
- Spring/Summer 2010 grad, or incoming senior (must be available through Sept. 26)

Work Hours:

July 14 – Sept. 9: Weekdays, 8:00 am – 4:30 pm
Sept. 10 – 26: Five days a week, possibly long hours

What You’ll Get in Return:

◊ Pleasant working environment
◊ Paid position ($8.55/hour), plus free parking
◊ Intern credits, if needed
◊ Real life PR / Communications experience

Fact:
The Puyallup Fair is a private, non-profit corporation, located nine miles east of Tacoma, and 37 miles south of Seattle, Washington. Over 1.1 million guests attend the Fair during its 17-day run. It is one of the ten largest fairs in attendance in the world. The 2010 Puyallup Fair is Sept. 10-26.

Interested?
Resume due by Feb. 26, 2010, 5 p.m.

Mail or email resume to:
Karen J. LaFlamme, APR
Public Relations Counsel
The Puyallup Fair
110 Ninth Avenue SW
Puyallup, WA 98371
E-mail: Karen@thefair.com